Over 1.5 Inches of Rain Falls in District in Last Forty-Eight Hours

A total of 1.5 inches of rain has fallen in the Lacombe district within the past 48 hours, figures from the Dominion Experimental Station here show. Up to 9 a.m. Wednesday, .46 inches fell, and since that time, and up to 9 a.m. this morning (Thursday), .87 inches. Leads skies give every indication that the rain will continue for some time.

Pasture, late crops and the second growth of alfalfa will benefit greatly by the rain, as well as the vegetable gardens. Whether the moisture came soon enough to help early crops is as yet problematical.

Red Cross Society Makes Appeal for Financial Aid

A total sum of $937.84 has been donated to the Red Cross Society throughout the province for the purpose of carrying on certain relief works in the drought-stricken areas of the province. This sum is far below what is needed to carry on the work, and an appeal has been sent out by the society for aid from Municipal Councils and Towns and Villages.

According to word received from D. H. Tomlinson, commissioner for Alberta, the Red Cross Society has under consideration a plan whereby farmers would be invited to donate a few bushels of wheat at the grain elevators throughout the country.

A total of 5237 families in the province are now under the direct care of the society, and it is funds for this purpose, in addition to usual services, for which the Red Cross is endeavoring to raise finances to continue their good work.

Large Crowd Attends Annual Shorthorn Field Day at Experimental Station

U.S. Visitors, Scheduled to Speak, Unable to Show Up Due to Bad Roads; Livestock Parade Point of Keen Interest

Between eight and nine hundred people attended the annual Field Day of Shorthorn Breeders on Monday, July 12th, at the Lacombe Experimental Station, and following lunch on the lovely shaded picnic grounds of the Farm, spent a profitable afternoon visiting the various departments in which they were particularly interested. Giving much pleasure to the crowd was an entertainment of hand selections provided by the Viking Band of Dickson.

Chairman H. S. Trame first called on F. H. Reed, superintendent of the Station, who extended a welcome and announced the program, and introduced Angus MacDonald of St. Albert, who, on behalf of the Edmonton Exhibition, offered good wishes as an invitation to the Exhibition.

G. E. DeLong, assistant superintendent of cereal crops, spoke briefly on hay crops. "Although this district has been handicapped by a most unusual season—one of the poorest in many years," said Mr. DeLong, "the people should realize how much more fortunate they are than those living in many parts of Saskatchewan, where there is absolutely no yield at all." He recommended alfalfa as the best investment in a hay crop. Asack and red clover are moisture loving crops and will winter kill badly if grown in dry seasons. Sweet clover is one of the best soil improvement crops, and which was drawn by a four-horse team and preceded by a Royal Herald, Charles Reed, the parade began at the barns and circled the grounds.

A magnificent four-horse team of Clydesdales followed, drawing a dray on which rode Pipers Malcolm MacCrimmon of Fort Saskatchewan and Bill Russell of Crossfield. Proudly majored then came the head of the horse herd, an imported stallion, "Strathairn James," followed by several teams, also mares with their foals, young geldings and fillies. Leading the Shorthorn herd was "Lacombe Lillian," a three-year-old bull, born and bred at the Lacombe Station, followed by a two-year-old imported bull and two dozen cows and young stock.

Stock Is Admired
Beautifully groomed and decorated, the stock shown in the parade was the admiration of the crowd. Led by the Royal Coach, which was used by the Experimental Station in the Coronation Day parade, and which was drawn by a four-horse team and preceded by a Royal Herald, Charles Reed, the parade began at the barns and circled the grounds.

Slight Fire in Rooms Above Avery's Cafe Causes $30 Damage

Quick work on the part of the Chinese employees of the Star Cafe prevented what might have been a serious fire in the rooms above Avery's Cafe Sunday night. Evidently the former occupant of the room had dropped a lighted cigarette on the bed.

Billows of smoke from the transom led the Chinamen who fortunately, in the corridor, to the scene of the fire, which was quickly extinguished by pails of water. Fire Chief W. G. Sage was called to the scene of the blaze about 3 o'clock Sunday morning to find the fire completely out.

Judges At Calgary

Two well-known local livestock men acted as judges at the Calgary Exhibition last week. H. E. Wilson of the Experimental Station was the judge for all classes of swine, and Joe Roper judged the Hereford cattle classes.

Forage Crop Need Seen in Park Belt

Through the medium of completed questionnaires returned to the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, by farmers taking advantage of the Farm Planning Service offered by the station, it has become quite evident that very few farmers plan to grow sufficient feed to properly provide for their cattle, even in favorable years. These questionnaires show that not one farmer in ten grows any tame grasses, and that leguminous crops are almost entirely ignored.

All successful livestock men recognize the fact that one good animal well fed is worth at least two poorly fed. During the summer months stock of all kinds and particularly breeding animals, secure most of their sustenance from pasture, and during the winter the bulk of the ration for all classes of stock except swine consists of dry fodder. Therefore it is essential that ample and suitable forage crops be provided, if satisfactory results are to be secured.

Legumes Are Valuable

Legumes are especially valuable, both for pasture and hay, because of their high protein content. Through the feeding of leguminous roughages the most satisfactory results may be secured without the necessity of purchasing high-priced commercial feeds, and since legumes are as easily grown as any other class of forage crop, the feeding of rations balanced through their use is not a luxury but, because of the vastly superior results, a real economy.

The Lacombe Station states that there is a wide range of pasture crops which may be used, the choice depending on the class of livestock and on soil and climatic conditions. However, under the conditions which prevail in Central Alberta there are a few grasses, legumes and mixtures which are pre-eminent satisfactory.

For perennial pasture for horses, cattle or sheep a mixture of 5 lbs. of alfalfa and 8 lbs. of broome is recommended. This will produce a high yield of palatable and nutritious fodder and at the same time serve to keep the animals' systems toned up. Although good for all classes of stock, this type of pasture is especially necessary for dairy cows, to secure maximum production at minimum cost.

For All Classes
For any class of stock, when pastures are included in short rotations or when there is any other reason for preferring an annual crop, a mixture of 2 bushels of oats and 1 bushel fall rye, spring seed, is a very suitable crop. The oats make a tall growth and are grazed down before the animals will bother about the rye, which mats along the surface of the ground. This mixture is widely used for swine pasture, often supplemented with rape seed at the rate of 3 lbs. per acre.

Under normal conditions in Central Alberta, one acre of forage crops will provide ample pasture or hay for one mature cow or its equivalent. This equivalent may consist of one horse, or five sows or ewes.

Further information concerning hay and pasture crops suitable for special conditions and requirements may be secured from the Lacombe station.

Haberdasher—These shirts are very strong, airy. They simply laugh at the laundry.

Contractor—Yeah, I know. I had some like that before. They laughed so hard they came back with their sides split.

Shorthorn Field Day at Experimental Station Draws Large Crowd

the University of Alberta, who first gave a short talk on the desirable characteristics of the Shorthorn type of cattle, and also pointed out that what the practical farmer needs today is the type of animal which will economically convert farm feeds into profitable beef.

First in the show ring were two bulls—a three-year-old roan, sired by Beaufort-Lindian, and a two-year-old red bull bred at Melfort, Sask., and sired by Clippers Scout. Four dual purpose cows were then shown and these were followed by several classes of cattle, which the interested spectators were asked to place. The discussions which ensued brought out much desirable information.

Particularly interested in the placings were Walter L. McAllister of Dalmoy, Jos. Alenby of Red Deer, J. W. Redfern of Stettler and J. Thomas and F. Ballhorn of Wetaskiwin.

Two of the cows shown hold outstanding records as milk producers, one, L. H. Mayflower 7th, having produced in one year 11,926 pounds of milk and 456 pounds of butterfat, now giving 30 pounds of milk daily, and Brandon Belle with a record of 10,134 pounds of milk and 372 pounds butterfat, now producing 30 pounds of milk daily. A third, Nerealeum Minnosa 7th, is at present producing 40 pounds of milk daily.

Interested in Horses
Many of the crowd took a great interest in the horses and judging competitions and much discussion also centered on them. Carloads of visitors were present from Tofield and Athabasca, Coronation and High River, and included W. Ross and James Murray, principal of the Olds School of Agriculture; F. H. Newcombe, District Agriculturalist, Red Deer, and A. Newman, field man for the Dominion Livestock Branch.

Unable to Attend
Professor C. W. Hickman, Professor of Animal Husbandry, University of Idaho, and Professor H. C. Hackadorn, Professor of Animal Husbandry at Washington State College, who were to have spoken at the Field Day, were unable to show up due to the bad condition of the road. They were forced to turn back to Calgary after driving out only 15 miles.

Spring Valley

We are glad to know that Mr. Whitney, Sr., is home again and is rapidly improving in health.

The Spring Valley Church and community picnic is to be held on the beach at the south end of the lake on July 15th. Everybody come and bring a basket with something to eat in it.

On Thursday, July 1st, Miss Dorothy Cull was visited by thirty or thirty-five of the ladies of the district at the home of her parents and presented with a table cloth and set of napkins to match. The afternoon was spent in games and a general good time.

Hand Is Injured
We understand that one of Pat Duffey's boys had the misfortune to break some of the bones in his hand last week and that another of the boys is sick in bed.

The special music for next Sunday will be a duet for two sopranos, "Seek Ye the Lord," and a mixed quartet singing "Abiding On Shewonderful Sweet."

Mr. Henry, who with Mrs. Henry is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Waterman, was in charge of the Bible class last Sunday, and the entire class wishes to express its appreciation of the able manner in which the lesson was presented.

First Edmonton to Yukon Air Mail Still Holds Spotlight in Capital

Rumor Regarding Social Credit Report by Experts is Circulating in Edmonton

By T. B. WINDROSS

EDMONTON.—Reports have been circulating in the Capital that the two Social Credit experts from London expect their report to Major Douglas to be given within a very short time and it has even been rumored they expect to be in a position to say a plan of Social Credit for Alberta can be operated within three months.

Attention, however, is always directed to the proviso they stress, which indicates all these things can be expected "provided there is sufficient unity among the whole of the people of Alberta."

During the past week the big thing as far as northern Alberta and Edmonton in particular is concerned was the inauguration of the first air mail service from this city to the Yukon at Whitehorse and Dawson City. The big silver-gray tri-motored United Air Transport machine made the flight without incident or mishap and returned to Edmonton after a successful trip. Mail and passengers were then picked up for the United States and another big aeroplane, one of the Mackenzie Air Service machines, took off Tuesday morning for Great Falls, Montana, where connection with other air mail routes going both east and west. The flight south was via Calgary and Lethbridge to Great Falls.

This event was one of the big historic events as far as the Canadian Northwest is concerned. It opened up for the first time to direct, quick communication the vast territory of the Yukon to the rest of the Dominion, and illustrates the progress in transportation made in recent years. It is one more of the links in air travel and communication that will in time make Edmonton one of the busy centres for aeroplane services on the continent.

Politically the capital has been quiet during the week, most cabinet ministers and the members of the Social Credit Board being away a good deal of the time. Premier Albert is not expected to return from Vancouver before next Monday, July 19th. Hon. J. W. Huggill, Attorney-General, is in Calgary for the Stampede, as also were Hon. E. C. Manning, Hon. Mr. Mullen and Hon. Solor Low, the latter calling there on the way back from the south.

Hon. Lucien Maynard returned from Ottawa during the week, where he was successful in securing further co-operation in connection with relief work projects from the Dominion government.

The arrangement for relief work expenditures in the cities was being held back at the end of the week by the fact that Medicine Hat had not submitted its plans to the department and until that is done, progress will be halted.

Since last week there has been another change in the cabinet, with Hon. E. C. Manning taking back his first post as Minister of Trade and Industry, held during Mr. Manning's illness by Dr. W. W. Cross. Dr. Cross for the present has only the department of health, but it is likely that he will be given the department of relief again, now being administered by Hon. Lucien Maynard. Other changes are rumored as being pending but no definite news has been issued to date.

CLIVE.—At time of writing we are being blessed with one of the best showers of the season.

We hear the clink of shovels and the sound of hammers all over town these days and it looks as though the gap caused by the fire will soon be filled.

R. N. Longstreet and crew have just finished repairing one of the bridges east of town.

Mrs. Wagstaff and Ardis Reynolds of Trail, B.C., are spending their holidays visiting relatives and friends at Clive.

Douglas, Wilson, Jr., and John Morton are spending the week at Gull Lake.

On Thursday last Erskine came to Clive and played a league ball game which resulted in a tie.

The Clive team will play Ponoka at the Lacombe Fair on Friday, July 16.

N. T. Nesbitt returned last week from a trip to Regina. He reports crop conditions deplorable in southern Saskatchewan.

Fairview

FAIRVIEW.—Calgary Stampede visitors last week included Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Douglas and W. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas, C. Flewelling and Miss B. Chesser; Mr. and Mrs. F. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. D. Stewart and W. Stewart; Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson.

On Tuesday last the C.G.I.T. Girls barely managed to win against the Trail Rangers by three runs. A number of spectators witnessed the game.

Seven of our girls are at camp at Meridian Beach. This is the largest group attending from any one point. Their leader, Mrs. N. J. Flewelling, is out with them.

We expect six of our boys to go to their camp at Meridian Beach this Thursday, when the girls' camp disbands.

The amount of wheat fed to livestock and poultry during the crop season 1936-37 is estimated preliminarily at 12,774,000 bushels, as compared with 30,939,000 bushels in the 1935-36 season.

Miss Reed also mentions that she met a person from Edmonton and their talks of Alberta revived pleasant recollections.

Miss Margarita Reed Gives Impressions Of Johannesburg

In Letter to Her Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reed, She Tells Of Renowned Boer War City

Writing to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reed, recently, their daughter, Margarita, who was recently transferred from Port Elizabeth to Johannesburg, South Africa, on the Canadian Nurses' Exchange, tells of her first impressions of the renowned Boer War city.

Making a number of friends while in Port Elizabeth, Miss Reed writes of her present loneliness and the hugeness of the hospital, of which she is now a staff member. Some idea of the size of the institution can be gained from the fact that 600 nurses are employed there. In spite of the size, a new wing of the hospital is being built, to add another 2000 beds to cater to the employees of the big mines and the native population.

Mule is Honored in Tennessee Celebration

The lowly mule had its day recently in Columbia, Tennessee, where is located one of the largest of the world's mule markets. Twenty thousand people, led by the Governor of the State, took a day off to honor his supposedly stubborn Highness.

A monster parade over two miles long was the main feature. Nearly a thousand mules brayed, balked, and cavorted to the martial music of the local bands. No attempts were made to exclude low quality animals. The most decrepit rubbed a bony haunch against his proud and sleeker brother.

It was a day for all mules, a day in which nosetting ideas of breed, class, pedigree were cast into the discard.

The Governor himself rode in one of the many beautifully decorated floats, drawn by a six-mule team. Later, he laughingly recalled less pleasant experiences with mules back in his youthful days on a farm. Honoring them was not particularly foremost in his mind then, much less so on a hot sultry day in the fields. But with age comes understanding.

While the mule was the guest of honor, other animals basked in reflected glory. Jennets, ponies, saddie, harness, and draft horses, oxen, cows, bulls and goats marched proudly in the procession, all brushed and sleeked for the occasion. If their marching lacked military precision, who are we to criticize in view of the spirit that prompted the affair?

Eighty-eight soap manufacturers of Czechoslovakia have combined to keep up the price of toilet soap.

Baptist Boys' Camp Winds Up for Season

McLAURIN BEACH — What is generally conceded to be one of the best boys' camps ever held by the Baptists at McLaurin Beach, closed Saturday morning, July 10. The camp was under the general supervision of Rev. S. A. Carlson of Edmonton, assisted by Rev. E. Brandt, Gust Anderson, Harold Silsbard, S. H. Hiltle and Donald McDormand, and continued religion with sport and general recreation. During the camp 22 boys professed conversions. The camp was divided into several groups and these engaged in debates. The final debate was on the subject, "Resolved it is unchristian for any young man to engage in war," and was won by the affirmative group under the direction of Rev. Gust Anderson, represented by Harry Minchin and Delmer Jenkins.

Gold Medal Presented

The gold medal presented annually to the boy adjudged the best all-round camper was won by Harry Minchin of First Baptist Church, Calgary, while the next three boys adjudged worthy to be placed on the honor roll were: Bud Davies, McDonald Church, Edmonton; Ralph Rockwood, First Baptist Church, Edmonton; and Archie Henderson, Delton Church, Edmonton.

The group under Rev. Don McDormand of Olds led in the contests, while that led by Rev. E. Brandt was second. In the field contests Don McDormand's group won the baseball, while the group under Mr. Brandt won the volley ball contest.

The best contest was won by the McDormand group and the Bible students contest by the group under Rev. Gust Anderson. Mr. Brandt's group led in the dining hall fagging and in the field day sports. The leaders played the boys games in baseball and volley ball, winning both. An Edmonton team won the baseball game but lost out in the volley ball.

In the Bible reading contest, the Bible presented annually by Dr. C. C. McLaurin was won by Ralph Rockwood, First Baptist Church, Edmonton. The camp paper was considered a howling success.

An amateur angler who had been trying to hook something for the last six hours, was sitting gloomily at his tent, when a mother and her small son came along.

Vagaries of The Stork

When it is known that the stork is going to visit a house, the expectant parents always wonder just what he is going to leave them. He seems to them a very whimsical old bird, for they never know whether to expect a baby boy or girl, or whether it will be healthy and strong. Sometimes he surprises them with two babies, or even three or more. But when we consider it all from the stork's own point of view we see that he works according to quite definite rules; the trouble is that in doing so much work he pays very little attention to the wishes of individual families.

Year in and year out he brings more boy babies than girls. In Canada it is about 105 or 106 boys for every 100 girls. He has to do this to keep the balance even, for the infant boys are not as strong as the girls, and four of them will die for every three of the girls.

Has a Fixed Rule

The stork has quite a fixed rule, too, about the number of times he brings more than one baby. Year after year he refuses to make 100 trips without bringing two babies one of them. And once in 80 or 85 times it is. And in the long run, for every 100 times he takes twins, he once takes triplets. On rare occasions he carries four or more.

Perhaps if we watched him long enough, we would find that he brings more than three about once for every 100 times that he brings three. He has done it twice in Canada in ten years, while he has brought triplets 283 times, and 28,400 pairs of twins.

To carry out this rule he would bring more than three only once in about one million trips.—Exchange.

PRECIPITATION MAP OF THE PRAIRIE PROVINCES

SHOWING PRECIPITATION FROM APRIL 15 TO JULY 25, 1937

AS COMPARED WITH THE AVERAGE OF 10 YEARS OR MORE

The map printed above shows the distribution of the precipitation which has occurred over the prairie provinces from April 15 to July 25, 1937, inclusive. It will be noted that the condition in Manitoba, with the exception of a relatively small area in the north-western corner, is either normal or better than normal. Normal rainfall also has occurred in parts of the north-eastern portion of Saskatchewan, in north-eastern Alberta; in a district in the Peace River and in the foothills in Alberta from Alberta south.

Give Them the Right Start

When you send your boy or girl off to Sunday School, do not think it just an idle pastime for them. Judge Benjamin B. Epstein of the Criminal Court of Chicago says that the church and the church influence upon youth is one of the big factors in life which make a man or a woman a worthwhile citizen.

The judge's duty, he says, when a young person comes before him charged with murder or other serious crime is to look back and find what has made the child criminal. Home life he often finds above reproach, but in almost every incident, the boy or girl gone wrong has had no spiritual education. He urges parents when worrying about their children to also worry about their religious education. "Teach them, or have them taught, through religion, the great lesson of life—that goodness is happiness." — Tracy (Minn.) Headlight.

Broomhall reports that weather conditions in Australia are not good, particularly in the eastern states, moisture being deficient. New South Wales and Victoria, which are in the east, usually account for a large percentage of the total Commonwealth wheat acreage.

On July 24th Mr. Layton will preach his farewell sermon in Lacombe.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
 At last Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "The Resurrection." The following is one of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (John 5:24). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows (page 487): "Life is deathless. Life is the origin and ultimate of all things, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death. The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

WHEAT IN STORE

Total stocks of wheat in Canada on March 31, 1937, were 118,005,450 bushels, compared with 246,797,501 a year ago. The 1937 figure is the lowest at this date since 1922 (114,988,086 bushels). Total stocks of oats, barley and rye were likewise considerably lower than on March 31, 1936. Stocks of flaxseed (888,047 bushels) showed an increase on the 1936 figure reported on March 31, 1936.

commodity prices in general; fear of war in Occidental and Oriental countries.
 Following factors have tended to lower prices:—European countries using substitutes for wheat in bread; world demands for wheat decline as prices advance; larger wheat acreage expected in Argentina; U.S. private wheat estimates well maintained; winter wheat and rye harvest begins in Europe; exportable wheat surplus expected in Roumania; Algerian harvest underway; big crop larger in Greece.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
 Director, "Crop Testing Plan"

The drought consumes us. There on high—
 The hills are parched, the streams are dry.
 The drought consumes us. Still I strive
 And will not leave while I survive.
 —Chinese poem about 900 B.C.
 from the Shi King Collection of Confucius.

Devastating droughts, as we can perceive from this ancient Chinese classic, are no new thing.

Steadfast striving against the difficulties of drought, too, it seems, is not new, for it has been the common rule in all ages with those who till the furrowed face of the land. For six, and in some places eight, long dry, dreary years, the farmers of southern Saskatchewan have demonstrated to the world their determination to strive. Each spring, with gradually diminishing resources, these courageous people, in keeping with the ancient spirit as shown in the Chinese classical poem, have seeded and cultivated the land with faith and hope.

Unfortunately, to survive in farming requires more than faith and hope. Material resources which cost money are vital necessities, too. In the dry area, many have now come to the end of their material resources. Let us hope that these splendid farmers—these most courageous Canadian citizens—may be saved not only for Western Canada but for Saskatchewan itself, by being re-established somehow among fellow farmers in known good rainfall areas of the province.

The following factors have tended to raise prices:—Worst drought in history of Western Canada may produce lowest yield per acre on record; Rust mauling U.S. winter wheat crop; Rust spores appearing in U.S. and Canadian spring wheat crop; evidence money inflation beginning to have effect in raising

Medical Head

President-elect of the Canadian

Medical Society, which is meeting

at Ottawa in a joint meeting with the Ontario Medical Association.

Many prominent doctors are scheduled to speak at the meeting attended by 2000 medical men

from Canada, the United States and overseas.

The report goes on to say that

after farrowing it is essential that
the sow must not be overfed or
given anything that will cause digestive disturbances in the young pigs. Sow milk is absolutely taboo.
Very limited quantities of feed are
allowed at first, the ration being
gradually increased so that the sow
can provide sufficient milk to keep pace with the pigs' appetites until,
after about the tenth day, she is on
full feed.

The first feed given after farrowing

is a nursing ration of equal parts of oat
chop, barley chop and bran, supplemented
with all the sweet skim-milk the sow
will drink. If skim-milk or buttermilk is not available, tankage may
be fed at the rate of seven per cent
of the nursing ration.Turpentine, mangel or other roots,
fed in limited quantities, are excellent for brood sows; they supply
bulk and succulence, and also exert
a desirable tonic influence. Bright,
well cured alfalfa hay or, lacking
that, oat greenfeed or ensilage will make a valuable salad for the sow.

At birth, the pigs are furnished

with eight sharp, tusk-like teeth, a legacy of the old razor-back. Under
modern conditions, such weapons
are unnecessary, and as they are likely to injure the sow's teats or
the other pigs, these black "wolf"
teeth are removed right after birth.
This is done by cutting them off
close to the gums with sharp side-
cutting pliers.

Creeps for Pigs

As soon as the pigs are strong

enough and the weather is suitable,
the sow and pigs are moved out to
a colony house with an adjoining yard. The gate is so arranged that
the young pigs, but not the sow,
may go in and out at will, and
troughs are placed just outside these
creeps, so that the pigs may learn
to eat at an early age.The mixture in the troughs consists of equal parts of shorts, barley, and oats with the hulls siftedout. Through the use of these creeps the pigs are given additional
impetus toward growth and strength
and they are already used to eating from troughs, winning brings
about very little halt in growth.When conditions are less favorable and pigs have not already
learned to eat, weaning may cause
a setback of a month or so, which
adds considerably to the cost of production.Prince Rupert, B.C., is noted for its rainfall.A dear old lady was visiting a
prison."You find the singing of the birds
a great comfort to you, don't you?"
she asked one of the convicts.

"Birds, me'am?" he said.

"Why, yes," she said, "you know,
the good birds we hear about so often."Baton Rouge, capital of Louisiana,

Sow and her Litter

As profit in swine raising is largely governed by the size of litters, and as the possible number of pigs to be raised is limited at farrowing time, every possible precaution must be taken at this critical period, according to a news letter issued by the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe.At the Lacombe Station, about a week before the sow is due to farrow, (so that she may become accustomed to her surroundings) she is placed in a clean, dry, reasonably warm farrowing pen, lightly-bedded with cut straw; the latter and heavier the sow, the less straw is required. To save pigs from being crushed when heavy sows lie down, two by four fenders are bolted on the wall about ten inches above the floor and eight inches out from the walls.About 24 hours before farrowing, the sow usually becomes restless and her udder fills. From this time until after farrowing it is wise to feed nothing but a warm bran slop, in order to avoid the occurrence of constipation and fever. Another essential precaution is to thoroughly scrub her sides and udder with soap suds, to wash off worm eggs.

After Farrowing

The report goes on to say that

after farrowing it is essential that
the sow must not be overfed or
given anything that will cause digestive disturbances in the young
pigs. Sow milk is absolutely taboo.
Very limited quantities of feed are
allowed at first, the ration being
gradually increased so that the sow
can provide sufficient milk to keep
pace with the pigs' appetites until,
after about the tenth day, she is on
full feed.

The first feed given after farrowing

is a nursing ration of equal parts of oat
chop, barley chop and bran, supplemented
with all the sweet skim-milk the sow
will drink. If skim-milk or butter-
milk is not available, tankage may
be fed at the rate of seven per cent
of the nursing ration.Turpentine, mangel or other roots,
fed in limited quantities, are excellent for brood sows; they supply
bulk and succulence, and also exert
a desirable tonic influence. Bright,
well cured alfalfa hay or, lacking
that, oat greenfeed or ensilage will
make a valuable salad for the sow.

At birth, the pigs are furnished

with eight sharp, tusk-like teeth, a
legacy of the old razor-back. Under
modern conditions, such weapons
are unnecessary, and as they are
likely to injure the sow's teats or
the other pigs, these black "wolf"
teeth are removed right after birth.
This is done by cutting them off
close to the gums with sharp side-
cutting pliers.

Creeps for Pigs

As soon as the pigs are strong

enough and the weather is suitable,
the sow and pigs are moved out to
a colony house with an adjoining
yard. The gate is so arranged that
the young pigs, but not the sow,
may go in and out at will, and
troughs are placed just outside these
creeps, so that the pigs may learn
to eat at an early age.The mixture in the troughs consists of equal parts of shorts, barley, and oats with the hulls siftedout. Through the use of these
creeps the pigs are given additional
impetus toward growth and strength
and they are already used to eating from troughs, winning brings
about very little halt in growth.When conditions are less favor-
able and pigs have not already
learned to eat, weaning may cause
a setback of a month or so, which
adds considerably to the cost of production.Prince Rupert, B.C., is noted for
its rainfall.A dear old lady was visiting a
prison."You find the singing of the birds
a great comfort to you, don't you?"
she asked one of the convicts.
